DESCRIPTION OF WORK PERFORMED Gary told me HV-3 was not heating. With the unit running, I went to the controls and raised the setpoint to get the heating valve to move at the unit. I could watch the valve moving from the ground. Went back to the computer that has the controls and watched to see if the supply temp was going up and it was not. Checked and found the pump for that section of the building was not running. Found the motor starter was tripped for that motor. Reset it and the motor came right on. Amped it out and it was running at 6 Amps and the overload is set at 9 Amps. Watched the supply temp start going up. Unit is running good at this time.
