Hey Rick,
We are still actively searching for someone who can get a hold of the manufacturer Envirotech.
I will copy & paste the update I received this morning from one of the vendors this quote was sent to, FYI all info was then sent over to Scott so we will wait and see if he can help us any.

"I'll be honest, that might be a little above my head. Our Maryland inside sales rep Scott McDonald might be able to better assist with this. If along my search I was able to find someone who sold something similar I would have inquired about a quote but I don't understand why these vendors aren't able to pull the information off the data plate and find this unit.

Scott has been here much longer than I have so maybe if you send him over the information he'll be able to figure something out. I'm just not really sure who else I could even contact at this point. His email is .. believe he won't be in his office until tomorrow because he's in a meeting out of state. Send him all the information you have in terms of pictures etc and I'll touch base with him in the morning."
